Experimenters Delay Mail; Hurt? Holler!

Because of amateur tinkering with the federal postal service a great disaster has fallen upon the towns and farms of Southwest Arkansas.

The "tinkering" is no fault of the local post offices throughout the territory—rather, it is the specific responsibility of what used to be called the Railway Mail Service, now a collection of truck drivers and sorters of mail.

On Saturday, May 6, the terminal and sorting facilities at Hope Post Office were transferred to the new Oaklawn Post Office building on the west side of Texarkana. Mail between Hope and its farm customers (with the exception of the four RFD routes) was sent to Texarkana for sorting, then returned for distribution.

We discussed this unfavorably in our editorial of Tuesday, May 9—but the press had hardly finished Tuesday's run when news of a postal disaster rolled in on us from all sides.

The first report said Fulton got no mail either Monday or Tuesday. With the co-operation of Hope Post Office we were able to correct this by sacking up separately the papers for Fulton beginning with the Tuesday edition, and this went through to Fulton O.K. Wednesday morning. By prior arrangement with Hope P.O. we had started loading mail pouches for all Nevada County points Saturday, so there has been no trouble in that area.

But Hempstead county points outside the four RFD routes disclosed a postal disaster. They missed all mail Monday and Tuesday mornings.

One-third of the rural subscription mail of this newspaper was wiped out in its home county. Here is the tabulation, with the number of paid subscribers at each point:

Washington	61
Ozan	36
Columbus	17
Patmos	74
McNab	26
Fulton	36

Total Hempstead County 250

Nashville 25

Saratoga 20

Total 295

As of May 1 our total of Hempstead county paid subscribers was 770—the 250 figure on miss-outs meaning that we had non-delivery Monday and Tuesday of 33 per cent of our circulation in the county of publication.

Not to mention the same damage to first class delivery of letter mail.

We make this request of rural subscribers: Advise us at once if the newspaper doesn't reach you the morning after publication. Don't report your own case alone—give us the names of at least three on your route who missed, which would be evidence the entire route delivery had miscarried.

We are compiling a factual record to take into federal court on a complaint against the mail service—if this becomes necessary—and we need your co-operation.

We are not alone in this trouble.

All towns in Southwest Arkansas are in the same sinking boat—cut off from communication with their trade areas. Here's a comment from our neighbor Nashville dated Tuesday, May 9:

FLYING BACKWARD Nashville News

The "new approach" to handling the nation's mail may some day prove itself: we doubt it.

Since the innovation Nashville post office ceased handling anything but local mail. Hope was made the distribution center. Which meant that a letter written by a Nashville resident to a friend in Mineral Springs or Dierks or Murfreesboro went first to Hope, then on to the destination.

If there was any time gained in this move, we are totally unaware of that gain.

The next unlikely step was to move the terminal from Hope to Texarkana, even across the state line into Texas. Now a letter addressed by a Nashville resident to a friend in Mineral Springs or Dierks or Murfreesboro is bundled up here, goes via Hope to the terminal in Texarkana across the line, then back into Arkansas for its destination.

All this on the unproven theory that you can move a letter faster by taking it further.

IRA Beats Up Suspected Girl Spy

BELFAST (AP) — The Official wing of the Irish Republican Army said today it abducted a 15-year-old Roman Catholic girl from her home, moved her secretly from place to place for five days, beat her at regular intervals, tore her hair out by the roots and tarred and feathered her because she was a spy for Scotland Yard.

The guerrillas said that in return for money and drugs she gave information which led to the arrest of several IRA men, and that her punishment would have been more severe if she had been older.

"We would like to inform residents of the need for this action and why it was so lenient," the Officials said in a written statement. "This person was a member of a spy ring operating in this town."

The girl was taken from her home Friday night. She was tarred and feathered in front of some 200 persons Wednesday and soldiers found her lying beside a lamppost, unable to walk.

Meanwhile, British troops and Irish guerrillas fought a gun battle in Londonderry, early today. The soldiers claimed to have hit four raiders in clashes which flared for more than three hours. There were no army casualties.

The fighting was at the military command post on the edge of "Free Derry," where 35,000 Roman Catholics live behind barricades under the rule of the IRA.

The outpost has been a target for frequent attacks over the past three nights.

Several other minor shootings were reported in Londonderry and Belfast during the night.

At Dungiven, in County Tyrone, an electricity transformer was blown up and set on fire.

On Wednesday, 50 pounds of gelignite and a fire wrecked Northern Ireland's biggest department store—the four-story Cooperative on York Street, Belfast's main shopping thoroughfare.

Twenty-five people were injured by flying glass and debris as the bomb gouged out the center of the store. No one was seriously hurt.

Firemen did not tackle the blaze which followed the explosion because an anonymous telephone caller warned that another bomb was inside.

Contract Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A contract of $2,182,430 has been approved by the General Services Administration to Emcon, Inc., of Sherman, Tex., to construct a federal office building and courthouse in Fayetteville, the office of Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Tuesday.

The facility is expected to be completed in September of next year.

The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation has approved a grant of $17,500 to the city of Paris for lighting on softball and baseball fields in the city's park, the office said.

Ships Pulling Out of Harbor at Haiphong

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five ships left Haiphong harbor before the U.S. mines became active, the Pentagon reported today.

Four of the vessels which sailed out of North Vietnam's chief port during the last "daylight grace period" were Russian, two tankers and two freighters, the report said. The fifth ship was identified as a Hong Kong-based British vessel.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim told a briefing that the five were believed to have unloaded their cargoes before departing.

That leaves 31 foreign merchant ships still in Haiphong, 12 of them flying Soviet flags, five Communist Chinese, three Hong Kong-based British craft, three Polish vessels, two Cubans, one East German and five under the flag of Somalia.

Friedheim refused to say whether the remaining ships now bottled up behind the mine barrier will be bombed. However he indicated they might not be attacked.

"Our main concern is with ships that may deliver supplies in the future," Friedheim said.

The Pentagon spokesman said there has been "no change in the status of 25 or so ships en route."

He declined to pinpoint their locations.

The mines dropped by U.S. planes Tuesday across the entrances to Haiphong and six other North Vietnamese ports were set to arm themselves at 7 p.m. Saigon time today, or 7 a.m. EDT. After that they can be exploded by ships passing over or near them.

Intense U.S. air and naval bombardment continued against military targets in North Vietnam for the third successive day. The 7th Fleet said the most powerful cruiser-destroyer force assembled in the western Pacific since World War II was ranging up and down the coast hitting within four miles of Haiphong.

'Arrester' Is Himself Arrested

DALLAS (AP) — A man who tried to "arrest" a go-go girl because she didn't go for him was arrested by a real cop and has gone to jail.

A young dancer told police that when she stepped down from the stage at the Mint Club, the man grabbed her, pulled her on his lap and said: "Looks like we're going to have to take you downtown."

The man refused to show identification and told the manager, who tried to intervene, "I'm going to arrest you for interfering with a police officer."

"That's when I decided to call a real cop," said the manager.

The bogus one got his ride downtown and was booked for impersonating an officer.

Jonesboro Gets Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $31,433 grant has been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the Jonesboro Urban Renewal and Housing Authority, the office of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Wednesday.

The grant is for a neighborhood development program to vitalize a predominantly residential area adjacent to the business district.

Planning Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A grant of $709,762 has been approved for the Arkansas Family Planning Council, Inc., a 28 Arkansas counties, the office of Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Tuesday.

USSR Calls for End of N. Viet Blockade; Moscow Meet Likely

Dobrynin in Conference With Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon met today with two ranking Soviet officials—a surprise session that might indicate his North Vietnamese moves will not wreck the May 22 Moscow summit.

The White House described the meeting between Nikolai Patolichev, the Soviet minister of Foreign Trade, and Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, with Nixon and three of his top aides as a "courtesy call."

But, coming as it did against the backdrop of a Soviet statement on Nixon's latest Vietnam measures, it could be a hopeful sign for the long-arranged summit.

Press secretary Ronald Ziegler, who described the session as a courtesy call, said Patolichev was in Washington for trade talks with Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson.

Peterson was in Nixon's office for the meeting, as was presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and economic adviser Peter Flanagan.

Nixon and the trade minister talked through a translator.

Precisely what business they were discussing was not disclosed. But the timing of the meeting seemed significant.

The session came soon after the Soviet Union's first top-level reaction to Nixon's announcement Monday night that he had ordered the mining of entrances to all North Vietnamese harbors to choke off war supplies.

The mines were activated at 7 a.m. EDT, today and a short time later the Kremlin declared Nixon's actions would "complicate further the situation in Southeast Asia and are fraught with serious consequences for international peace and security."

The 890-word Soviet statement made no mention of the summit conference between Nixon and Kremlin leaders.

Car Burns Near Patmos

The Hope Fire Department was called to an auto fire between Patmos and Lewisville about 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. The car belonged to Lillie Smart was in flames when firemen arrived. The flames were extinguished but the car was a total loss.

China Hits at Vietnam Blockade

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — China told the United Nations today that the new U.S. measures against North Vietnam were impermissible and must be condemned. But it also said the Vietnam question did not belong to the United Nations.

Ambassador Huang Hua, head of China's U.N. mission, made the statements in a letter addressed to Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim and to U.S. Ambassador George Bush, president of the Security Council for May.

He said he was "instructed by the Chinese government" to say these things because of a letter Bush wrote the council Tuesday night informing the members of the measures announced by President Nixon then.

Mixed Reaction in Nixon Mail

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Messages to President Nixon in reaction to his decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors range from support of the family of a pilot missing in Vietnam to irate protests of immorality and unconstitutionality.

The White House provided Wednesday a random sampling from the near 40,000 telegrams which officials say are running 5 to 1 in favor of Nixon's actions.

The sentiments range from such comments as "Hooray for old-fashioned American guts," sent by an Alabama family, to a simply "No," repeated 15 times by a Massachusetts citizen.

The White House declined to permit use of the names of most of those who made their opinions known to the President.

But administration spokesmen did identify a message from Teddy Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, who found Nixon's Monday night Vietnam speech "very encouraging and satisfying."

He said the officers and members of his union "reaffirm our pledge one hundred per cent in support of your policy seeking freedom abroad and more equitable society at home."

Another from TV star Jackie Gleason called the speech "Supportive."

Mines Now Activated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's top admiral said today the "mine fields are now active" off North Vietnam and asserted that the action was taken according to the "right of self defense."

"This is clearly an act of self defense."

Mr. Lacy is a ruling Elder in the First Presbyterian Church at Magnolia and is a 1972 Moderator of Ouachita Presbytery. The public is invited to hear Mr. Lacy speak at the Hope Presbyterian Church on next Sunday morning.

The Bingen Community residents are planning a homecoming day at the community building just off Highway 27, on Sunday, May 28. A pot-luck perb." He said it conveyed Nixon's "courageous leadership" and concluded, "Let's hope it inspires other Americans to re-dedicate not only their understanding of the situation but the pledge of allegiance to America."

There was thanks "for your courageous stand" from the family of a pilot son missing in action.

An umpire from St. Louis told Nixon, "Stick to your guns. We are sincerely behind you."

And one writer declared, "A leader must make a decision. Public opinion must not prevail—public opinion is hindsight with no liability, not leadership."

One commentator, who wrote, "I am normally a Democrat," applauded the speech and offered "thanks for the courage." The messages opposing Nixon's decision were hard-hitting too.

"Immoral and unconstitutional act... Stop kidding." "If Russia blockaded Saigon what would our reaction be? Can we expect less of them?"

"What are you going to do when the Russian Navy arrives?" one telegram asked the President.

"What is more important, American honor or human lives? Cease fire now," was among the sentiments.

One wire suggested the escalation was "reprehensible," and said, "The best way to save our 60,000 troops is by bringing them home."

Russians Drop No Hint Meet Is Canceled

By JAMES H. PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — While congressional opposition mounted to President Nixon's decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors, the Soviet government called today for an end to the U.S. move to block the ports.

A Soviet statement in Moscow, distributed by Tass, the official news agency, said:

"The Soviet government resolutely insists that the United States' steps to block the coast and disrupt ground communications of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam be cancelled without delay, that acts of U.S. aggression against the DRV be ended, that the right to freedom of international navigation and trade be respected."

There was no suggestion in the statement of any postponement or cancellation of the planned summit conference of Nixon with Soviet leaders in Moscow beginning May 22.

Nixon met meanwhile with two ranking Soviet officials—a surprise session seen as a sign his North Vietnamese moves will not wreck the summit.

Highway Fatality at Prescott

State Police were called to the scene of an accident two miles south of Prescott on Highway 67 about 9:45 today. Kenneth L. McKinnon, age 35 of Rt. 2, Prescott was fatally injured when the half-ton wrecker he was driving was involved in a collision with a tractor-trailer rig driven by John Robert Allen of Little Rock. The McKinnon vehicle was attempting a left turn onto a county road when the tractor-trailer rig struck it in an attempt to pass. The driver of the truck was taken to Nevada County Hospital. His injuries are not considered serious. Trooper Bob Cockman made the investigation.

Dinner Honors Plane Crew

TEL AVIV (AP) — Premier Golda Meir kissed the captain of the Belgian airliner hijacked by Arab guerrillas and told him, "We love you."

Israeli officials gave a gala dinner Wednesday night for the crew of the Sabena 707 jet that was hijacked Monday. Mrs. Meir toasted the British pilot, Reginald Levy, and told him: "You are taking with you Israel's love and esteem and all of our love for you and the crew."

Levy said he should not be singled out because each crew member had "carried out his task with devotion and presence of mind."

Levy and 96 others were held at gunpoint for 21 hours Monday and Tuesday by four Arabs at Lod International Airport until they were rescued by Israeli soldiers disguised as mechanics. The Israeli paratroopers killed two of the hijackers and captured the other two wounded one of them.

The Sabena Crew left in their jet for Brussels this morning.

Soviet Raps Mine Use

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today sharply denounced President Nixon's mining of North Vietnamese ports as "fraught with serious consequences for international peace and security."

But the official statement distributed by the government news agency Tass stopped short of calling for a postponement or cancellation of a summit conference of Nixon and Soviet leaders, scheduled to begin May 22 in Moscow.

"The only real way of settlement of the Vietnamese problem is to respect the Vietnamese people's right to decide their destiny themselves without any interference and pressure from outside," the statement said. "If the United States is really ready to do so, it should return to the table of negotiations in Paris."

"The Soviet government resolutely insists that the U.S. steps to block the coast and disrupt ground communications of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam be canceled without delay, that acts of U.S. aggression against the DRV be ended, that the right to freedom of international navigation and trade be respected. The Soviet government expresses the hope that this point of view is shared by the governments and peoples of all peace-loving states."

"The Soviet people, loyal as they are to the principles of Socialist internationalism, associates itself with the struggle of the heroic Vietnamese people. The Soviet people has been giving and will continue to give the Vietnamese people the necessary support."

As for the Soviet Union's discontinuing its arming of North Vietnam, the statement declared: "The Soviet people, loyal as they are to the principles of Socialist internationalism, associated themselves with the struggle of the heroic Vietnamese people. The Soviet people have been giving, and will continue to give, the Vietnamese people the necessary support."

The statement did not spell out how the Soviet Union would deal with the mines sown in Vietnamese harbors.

House Likely to Vote $2 Wage Base

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A $2 minimum wage appears certain to win House approval today, but a proposal to extend coverage to 5.8 million new workers faces heavy opposition.

Two bills that would boost the present $1.60-an-hour minimum wage to $2 are before the House, but only one provides any new coverage. A close vote is expected when the House chooses between them.

The Democratic leadership is backing a bill from the Education and Labor Committee that would bring 3 million state and local government workers, 1.7 million federal workers and 1.1 million domestic workers under minimum-wage laws.

The Republican-Southern Democratic coalition, however, supports a bill offered by Rep. John N. Ehrlenborn, R-Ill., that would hold the line at the 45.5 million workers now covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act. In addition, the Ehrlenborn bill would establish a separate, lower minimum for teen-age workers.

Although there is little disagreement among House members that the minimum should be boosted to $2, an effort is expected from the Republicans to add an intermediate step to $1.80 immediately, delaying the increase to $2 until a year later.

Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., who is proposing the stretch-out, told the House Wednesday that an increase to $2 at this time would threaten the effectiveness of wage and price controls.

But Rep. John Dent, D-Pa., manager of the committee bill, said only 3.1 million of the workers presently covered by the act would actually get a raise under a $2 minimum. The rest now are either making more than that he said, or are in categories that would not be eligible for $2 this year.

Both bills would extend the $2 rate only to workers covered before 1966, when the last increase in wages was enacted.

The 11.2 million workers newly covered in 1966 who didn't reach the $1.60 level until last year, would go to $1.80 this year and $2 next year, according to both bills.

Also, new rates are established in both bills for farm workers, who were brought in by the 1966 act and now get $1.30 an hour. They would get $1.50 this year and $1.70 next year. Only farms that employ an average of eight fulltime workers are covered.

The Ehrlenborn bill would provide a $1.60 minimum for youths under 18 years of age and students under 21. Ehrlenborn said it is necessary to provide jobs for teen-agers who have the highest unemployment rate in the nation. Opponents of this provision contend it would only encourage employers to fire adults and hire teen-agers at lower rates.

Silver Dollars Bring $600 Million Profit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Treasury stands to make nearly $600 million in profits by selling collectors versions of Eisenhower silver dollars at $3 to $10.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally brought up the subject Wednesday at a session of the Senate Appropriations Committee and said:

"The profit we're making on sales of the Eisenhower dollar is just unconscionable, that's the truth."

Connally didn't have the exact figures on the profits but the U.S. mint did.

A spokesman said the Treasury profit last year on sales of $10 "proof" dollars and $3 uncirculated dollars was exactly $40,411,669.14 with the profit for both types of coins averaging $3.80.

Multiplying by the 150 million dollars—each containing 40 per cent silver—that the Mint is authorized by Congress to make and sell, the total potential profit is $597.5 million.

And a mint spokesman said the profit margin probably will rise as initial production costs go down.

"We're selling all of them we can make," he said. "We're limited only by our production

Commission Makes Marijuana Study

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A government commission says marijuana makes sex better for lots of smokers, but it's not a love potion for everyone.

Although youngsters who experiment with pot are likely to experiment with sex, too, the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse found no evidence that one leads to the other.

The commission said the drug appears to intensify pleasurable experiences and heighten the senses for many users. "It is this fact which probably explains why substantial proportions of marijuana users characterize their sexual experiences under the influence of the drug as particularly intense, prolonged, sensuous and pleasurable," the commission said.

But many other smokers report no such effect, and marijuana may actually diminish sexual pleasure for a few, the commission said.

It all appears to depend on what you expect. The commission said research indicates the more a person uses marijuana and expects it to make sex better, the more likely it is to do so.

The commission's findings on pot and sex occupy five pages buried in a recently released 1,282-page appendix to its marijuana report, which was published earlier this year.

The main report omitted any mention of the sex findings. One commission official said they would have drawn attention away from the main findings.

Luther C. Phifer, CHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Luther C. Phifer, 86, an editorial cartoonist whose works appeared in New York and national publications for 30 years, died Monday. Phifer's drawings appeared in the New York Tribune, the New York Evening Post, Political Review, and Life and Judge magazines.

ings, which recommended discouraging use of pot while removing criminal penalties for private use.

The commission found that substantial numbers of persons say they are more interested in sex after smoking marijuana.

Also, it found evidence that smoking pot reduces inhibitions and allows a person to respond more freely to his or her sexual desires.

But there's no evidence that marijuana causes any physical craving for sex. In other words, it's not the aphrodisiac many of its fans claim it to be, the commission said.

Research also shows marijuana users are more sexually active than non-users.

One survey of more than 500 college undergraduates found 72 per cent who smoked marijuana also had engaged in sex before marriage, while only 34 per cent of non-smokers did so.

But the commission said it isn't clear whether pot leads to sex or vice versa. The same survey found that only 7 per cent of those who tried sex before age 16 had never tried any illegal drug. On the other hand, 47 per cent of the virgins didn't try drugs either.

Forecast Calls for Cloudiness

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A low pressure system that was supposed to have brought rain to Arkansas today stalled Wednesday over New Mexico delaying the expected precipitation.

The low was expected to begin moving slowly eastward. The National Weather Service said it would be close enough to the state to trigger showers in the western portion tonight and over the state Friday.

Arkansas weather has been dominated by a large high over Ohio that is moving to the southeast.

The forecast called for increasing cloudiness and a little warmer today with widely scattered showers and thunder-showers beginning in the west portion late today. Friday should be mostly cloudy with scattered showers and thunder-showers.

High readings over the state Wednesday were about five to 10 degrees below normal — ranging from near 70 in the extreme north to the mid 70s in the extreme south.

Overnight lows included 48 at Fayetteville, 46 at Harrison, 51 at Jonesboro, 56 at Pine Bluff, 58 at Texarkana, 57 at El Dorado, 51 at Memphis, 53 at Little Rock and 53 at Fort Smith.

Value-Added Tax Hinted by Connally

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon may send Congress a sweeping tax-reform bill this year, including possible consideration of a value-added tax, says Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

Connally told a small group of newsmen Wednesday that if the President decides to send up tax-reform legislation, it will be a "basic, fundamental" proposal rather than loophole-closing ideas currently pending on Capitol Hill. The secretary doubted that a major tax-reform bill could be passed during a campaign year. "I would question the basic wisdom of trying to write a tax-reform bill between the conventions and the election," he said.

"He may well send some proposals to the hill," Connally said of Nixon, emphasizing that he wasn't speaking for the President. He added the list could include a value-added tax idea, "major simplification" of the tax structure, and a proposal on property taxes.

In recent times, it has taken major tax-reform bills at least a year, and usually longer to go through Congress.

Connally said he views the value-added tax as a "tax of substitution." The administration is studying the tax as a substitute for the local property tax as the financial prop for schools, but has made no formal proposal.

5-Acre Soy Bean Program Launched

Arkansas soybean producers are invited to participate in the five-acre soybean yield recognition program.

Sponsored by the Arkansas Soybean Association in cooperation with the Arkansas Cooperative Extension Service, the program is aimed at increasing the per acre production of soybeans in Arkansas.

Calvin J. Caldwell, county Extension agent, says a broader recognition and awards program is announced to interest more producers.

The state champion yield producer will receive a plaque from the Arkansas Soybean Association, plus a free tour with other champions from all over the U.S. to Denmark, Russia, and France. The tour is sponsored by Elanco Chemical Company. Previous state winners are not eligible for the foreign tour.

District winners will be recognized with a plaque certifying achievement.

A Soybean Hall of Fame has been initiated to recognize all producers with 50 bushels or more per acre.

Entries will consist of 5 or more acres from a field of 10 acres or more of soybeans and will be limited to one per farming unit. County Soybean Certifying Committee members will certify the harvesting and weighing entries.

Entry forms are available from the county Extension offices.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Cavett's show is on three months probation at ABC. David Frost will drop his syndicated series in midsummer in favor of his weekly revue and occasional specials. Does this mean the nighttime talk show is an endangered television species?

Opinion among the experts is split, but the consensus seems to be that the problem faced by these two and some others is more that of supply and demand than the quality of talk.

"I think there is a parallel in NBC's experience years ago with the 'Today' show," said a network executive who asked for anonymity. "There had been nothing like that in the morning when the show started. It caught on with the public and the advertisers. Then CBS came along and threw in some competition—Jack Paar and Ernie Kovacs. They disappeared because by that time 'Today' was entrenched with its audience. It was hard to fight it."

The same pattern, he believes, is making the other end of the broadcasting day a battle ground now. The "Tonight" show on NBC became popular with Steve Allen and went on to be the most talked-about show on the air during the Jack Paar day. Now it has nailed down a big and apparently unmovable audience with Johnny Carson.

"There has been lots of commotion," the executive continued. "ABC tried with Jerry Lewis and Joey Bishop before Cavett. CBS had Merv Griffin. The truth is that there are just a certain number of TV sets that stay on in the late evening. When too many shows compete for the same audience, and for the advertisers' dollars, it is a set-up for financial disaster—for the networks and for their affiliates."

Another student of television, a former network vice president, brushed off Cavett's troubles as "a cyclical phenomenon of television."

"It is not unusual," he said. "One type of show does well and then the networks or the packagers think they can get advertisers for another show like it. Then the field gets crowded and the most recent ones or the marginal ones drop off."

"Compare it with shelf space in a store: When there are a lot of brands of cereal crowding limited space, the ones that don't sell well or come along too late don't make the shelf."

Cavett, with about 140 stations airing his program, and Frost, with a syndication of around 70 stations, have suffered, in the opinion of others, because "the same people kept appearing on both shows."

Child Struck by Car

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — State Police said Albert R. Finley, 5, of near England was killed Wednesday when struck by a car on Arkansas 15 just south of the Jefferson-Lonoke county line.

Police said the child apparently was playing near the highway when he darted into the path of a car.

Waiter Hears All Kinds of Excuses

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a restaurant waiter gets tired of hearing when he presents the bill:

"Why put it in front of me? Do I look like I've got a kind face?"

"Can we borrow two pencils from you? The girls have decided we're all going dutch, and it'll take a little figuring. After all, there are 12 of us."

"But you're a married man, Ronald. If you keep taking me to these expensive lunches, you won't be able to buy your kids new shoes this summer."

"I asked you for the bill, Giuseppe, not the Italian first World War debt."

"Nobody tips us. Why should we tip him?"

"Here, Jim, you go over it. I know it's too large but I've checked it twice and can't find anything wrong."

"Sorry, George, you'll have to throw in another buck to make it come out even. Aren't you the one who insisted on having a special shot of sherry in your mock turtle?"

"Frankly, if I were doing it, I'd leave him only 10 per cent, instead of 15 per cent. After all, he was pretty snooty, and he didn't tell us there was a special on chicken au gratin today."

"Why should a guy use a gun to hold up a bank when he can get this kind of money out of us with only a pencil?"

"In the old days they served better food than this at a saloon free lunch counter. Remember?"

"I admit it's my turn to pick up the check, fellows, but hon-

$500 Reward Posted

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A $500 reward has been posted by the Gwinnett County Commission for information leading to the arrest of vandals who drained the county's water supply of a million gallons of water.

Police reported that 27 fire hydrants were opened last weekend in the northwest section of the county.

O.P. Ackerman, general manager of the county's water system, said the system was left with a dangerously low supply.

Pickle Packers Go Kosher

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Three Arab pickle and pepper packers have gone kosher.

It all started when the Safie Brothers Farm Pickle Co. near Mount Clemens decided to turn out a line of kosher pickles and peppers named "King David."

The three brothers—George, Charles and Louis—needed a rabbi to make it kosher. Rabbi Jack Goldman of nearby Oak Park said he would be happy to oblige, and Wednesday the three Arab brothers and the rabbi celebrated the birthday of the new pickle.

"We've heard so much about Ping-Pong diplomacy," Rabbi Goldman said, "we thought we'd try a little pickle diplomacy."

The Generation Gap

Ask Me No Questions

DEAR HELEN AND SUE: My daughter is nearly 20 and her boy friend is 21. They have been going together for three years and are now engaged, but won't marry until he finishes college in about two years.

They are great kids but, Helen and Sue, is it right these days for a girl to go to a boy's apartment and stay several hours? She gets off work at six and often fixes dinner for him. On Sundays they go to church and are together all day.

They've never made me distrust them, and my daughter still lives at home. But...

When should a mother stop trying to tell her daughter what might lead to trouble?—PLAIN WORRIED AND ALL TALKED OUT

DEAR P.W.A.T.O.:

When she starts sounding like a broken phonograph record. Apartment visits are accepted for engaged couples these days.—HELEN

DEAR P.W.:

An engaged girl of 20 doesn't really need a mother to tell her what she already knows. You could have stopped talking a long time ago.—SUE

DEAR RAP:

I am a secretary, age 21. I have found during my four years of working around male executives and businessmen that most of them are short-tempered and rude. You'd think the older generation that is trying to set an example for young people would use better manners. Over the telephone, especially, they shout and even curse.

All they are proving is that they are ignorant, mean and insecure, and just because they are big shots doesn't mean they rate respect from people who have to work with them. If they didn't wash, they'd stink like every other human being.—FRUSTRATED SECRETARY

DEAR SECRETARY: You probably talk to 35 businessmen a day—on the phone or in person. Dous a favor, okay? Tomorrow, count the shouters. Mark the rude guys and the nice ones down on a tally sheet, and I'll bet you find a small minority seems like the majority because they make so much noise.—SUE

DEAR F.S.:

And if the rude far outnumber the good, then look to yourself: Maybe your telephone manners aren't the best. Does your voice grate? Do you sound irritable because you expect someone to jump on you? Does your opinion of "all make executives and businessmen" turn you snappish?

A good secretary can sometimes make a lion purr. Try it!—HELEN

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

Del and I were engaged, and would have been married next month, but he told me he couldn't settle down till he got the trip he'd always planned out of his system. So he took off on a two-month pack trip to explore the Sierra Mountains and the Rockies. He wanted to do this once before but I said if he left me he wouldn't expect me to wait for him.

He'll be back in two week. I still love him, but if he's this selfish, would it be wise to marry him?—AMY

DEAR AMY:

Who's selfish? If each of us fulfilled one big dream before settling down, there might be fewer divorces.—HELEN AND SUE

Unser Hits 194 m.p.h. at Indy Speedway

By BLOYS BRITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — How does a 200 mile per hour lap at Indianapolis strike you? Impossible?

"It can be done," says Bobby Unser. "Not this year, probably, but eventually and soon. As a matter of fact, I don't know yet how fast my car can run. But I'm working up to finding out."

Unser, the 38-year-old 1968 Indianapolis 500 winner from Albuquerque, N.M., shocked the old-line Indy veterans to their heels Wednesday when he whipped Dan Gurney's All-American Racers Eagle around at an unofficial 194.721 m.p.h., 14 miles per hour faster than the track record.

He earlier recorded three laps in a row in excess of 191 m.p.h., then made a few adjustments and sipped a soft drink before going back out for one lap at 192.318.

He waited until 5:33 p.m. to jingle the timing clocks with his masterpiece.

"We have been working up gradually," Unser said. "We haven't been trying to set the woods on fire, just work hard, drive hard, and look ahead to the race. But I guess you could say now I'm the one the others will have to beat for the pole position."

Unser, who won the national driving title the same year he captured Indy, says the higher speeds this year are due to quicker times through the Speedway's short chutes, rather than blitzing the long straight-aways as has been the case in previous years.

Already considered by most as the favorite to win the No. 1 starting spot in first-round qualifying Saturday, Unser now admits the other drivers have some catching up to do.

Nonetheless, several other drivers were beginning to find the range, and by Wednesday's track closing, 16 drivers had turned unofficial laps at 180 or better.

Among them were the Parnelli Jones drivers, Al Unser, Mario Andretti and Joe Leonard; three-time winner A.J. Foyt, and darkhorses Jim Malloy and Gordon Johncock.

Bobby Unser's chief antagonist in the raging speed war has been 28-year-old Gary Bettenhausen, who recorded the first 191-plus lap at the Speedway Sunday.

Peter Revson, who with Johncock is assigned to the British-based McLaren organization, holds the Speedway's official one-lap record of 179.354 m.p.h. and the four-lap mark of 178.696. Revson appeared to be getting the kinks out of his new car and rode around Wednesday at 189.394. He came away smiling.

Would Rather Be Lucky than Rich

By HERSCHEL NISENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
To hear Sam McDowell and Clay Kirby talk, you'd think they were subscribers to the Lefty Gomez theory that "I'd rather be lucky than good."

Listen:

"I would say I've been lucky so far this year, and I mean very lucky," said San Francisco's McDowell after running his record to 5-0 with a 7-3 victory over Montreal Wednesday night.

"I feel that when you give up three runs you're lucky to win," said San Diego's Kirby following a 5-3 triumph over Philadelphia.

Not so fortunate was St. Louis' winless Bob Gibson, who carried a four-run lead into the eighth inning only to have the Houston Astros explode for six runs and beat the Cardinals 10-7.

Elsewhere in the National League, the New York Mets nipped Los Angeles 4-3 in 14 innings, Atlanta battered Pittsburgh 8-4 and the Chicago Cubs downed Cincinnati 4-2.

McDowell, obtained from Cleveland during the winter, has won five of San Francisco's eight victories and is the only reason the last-place Giants are still in the league.

"I'll tell you, this club makes it a little easier for me out there," he said. "They're getting the runs for me. If I can hold the other club close, these guys will get me runs."

Sudden Sam held the Expos as close as you can get—1-1 through seven innings—and the Giants erupted for six runs in the eighth, with Tito Fuentes starting the uprising with a single and rapping another single to drive in the final run. Bob Bailey homered for the Expos.

Backed by home runs by Nate Colbert—his seventh, tops in the majors—and Fred Kendall, Kirby survived five hits and eight walks to beat the Phillies. He was helped by three double plays.

Gibson, 0-4, was helped to a 7-3 lead by Ted Simmons' grand slam before the Astros teed off on the St. Louis ace and two relievers for their six-run eighth. Roger Metzger started it with his first major league homer and Jimmy Stewart capped it with a tie-breaking two-run pinch triple. Lee May homered for the Astros in the ninth. Al Santorini was charged with the defeat.

The Dodgers jumped to a 3-0 lead against the Mets with Frank Robinson collecting a run-scoring single in the first inning and a solo homer in the third. But the Mets pecked away at Al Downing and finally caught up in the eighth on Rusty Staub's home run.

The winning run came with two out in the 14th after Tug McGraw had pitched five innings of one-hit relief for New York—on Bud Harrelson's single, a stolen base, Pete Mikkelsen's wild pitch and an infield hit by Ted Martinez.

The Braves scored four runs on five hits and two Pirate errors in the seventh inning to defeat Pittsburgh behind knuckleballer Phil Niekro.

Earl Williams singled home the first run of the inning, Dusty Baker delivered a pinch double for another run, Marty Perez squeezed home the third and then scored himself when center fielder Al Oliver dropped Niekro's fly ball.

Oliver belted a three-run homer for the Bucs and Bob Robertson a solo shot.

Carmen Fanzone highlighted a four-run fourth inning with a two-run double as the Cubs downed the Reds and won for the seventh time in their last eight starts. The Reds have dropped four in a row.

official on hand—chairman of the board M. Donald Grant.

Grant was to meet with Mays and Horace Stoneham, the Giants' owner, at a midtown hotel.

Mays came in from Montreal Wednesday night while the Giants were playing a game there with the Expos at Jarry Park.

He said he would have no "hard feelings" if he were to be traded to the Mets, but insisted that he knew nothing of the negotiations involved.

"Don't put words in my mouth," he told a reporter upon his arrival at a New York airport. "I'll talk about any-

Mays Negotiates Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays meets today with officials of the San Francisco Giants and New York Mets to discuss his future in baseball.

The San Francisco superstar flew into New York Wednesday evening and announced:

"I'm here to talk and I can't say any more than that because I don't know any more."

The Mets, interested in obtaining the 41-year-old center-fielder, resumed negotiations for his services with their top thing else that you want to talk about—but I can't talk about something that I don't know about."

Mays waxed philosophical over the much-rumored trade.

"That's the game of life ... that's the game of baseball," he said.

The prospective deal was revealed last week, but the Mets cooled after the Giants demanded young players for their outfielder, probably in his last season.

But talks reopened after Mays personally was brought in on the deal. Stoneham apparently bowed to sentiment for his 21-year veteran.

Smith Moves Into Tennis Finals

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP) — Stan Smith mastered a damp shale court, gusty winds and Jean Loupe Rouyer of France to move into today's quarter-finals of the British Hard Courts Tennis Championships with fellow Americans Jimmy Connors and Sharon Walsh.

Smith, of Pasadena, Calif., scored a 6-2, 6-3, 8-6 victory over Wednesday over the Frenchman who had upset him in the recent Italian Championships and earned a berth against West Germany's Juergen Fassbender.

Connors, a 19-year-old from Belleville, Ill., downed Nikola Spear of Yugoslavia 6-3, 6-3, 7-5 for the right to meet South Africa's Bob Hewitt in another quarter-final.

In other men's quarter-final matches, Pierre Barthes of France will meet Peter Cramer of South Africa and Ilie Nastase of Romania will face Ion Tiriac of Romania.

In other women's quarter-finals, Evonne Goolagong of Australia will play Katja Ebbinghaus of West Germany. Australia's Helen Goulray will face Helga Masthoff of West Germany, and Joyce Williams and Virginia Wade meet in an all-British match.

Teams Battle 2-2 Draw

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — United States and Mexico soccer teams battled to a 2-2 draw, their second tie in Olympic qualifying competition, before 12,635 spectators at Kezar Stadium Wednesday night.

The outcome left all four North American zone contenders—Mexico, the United States, Guatemala and Jamaica—in tight competition for Olympic soccer matches in Munich, Germany, this fall.

The United States and Jamaica play Sunday in St. Louis. Guatemala and Mexico play May 21 and May 28 in their respective countries.

Mexico and the U.S. tied 1-1 Jan. 23 in their first Olympic qualifying match.

Including the Kezar results, the four zone teams are separated by only one point: the United States and Guatemala each have five points and Mexico and Jamaica have four.

mean really excited," Gaylord said after chalking up his fifth victory. "Is after we hit a slump. Then let's see how quickly we can fight our way out of it and see what happens to our confidence."

The Tribe has notched eight victories in nine games and Gaylord has a streak of his own with three straight triumphs and an earned run average that has dipped to 2.02.

"Everybody's working and hustling their butts off," he said. "These kids really want to win."

They won against the Royals on the strength of Alex Johnson's three-run homer, his third of the year.

Harmon Killebrew's second homer of the season and 517th of his career—moving him within four of sixth-placed Ted Williams on the all-time home run list—was what gave Jim Perry and the Twins their victory over the Yanks.

Jim scattered nine hits and needed ninth-inning relief help before notching his third victory and enabling Minnesota to open its AL West lead over Oakland to 1½ games.

"I threw about 10 more pitches than I normally do in a full nine innings," Jim said. "I didn't walk anybody but I sure had a lot of three-ball counts and it seems the innings were longer."

"But we've got good men who can come in behind you. The odds are with you in that type of situation."

Is he looking forward to pitching against brother Gaylord one of these days?

Gaylord Tosses Five Hitter for 7-2 Victory

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jim and Gaylord Perry have got it together. Now if they could only get together ...

Baseball's pitching brothers did their thing Wednesday, Gaylord tossing a five-hitter to carry Cleveland to a 7-2 victory over Kansas City that vaulted the Indians into first place for the first time in four years, then Jim hurling eight shutout innings at night en route to Minnesota's 2-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

In the other American League games, Baltimore squeezed by Texas 1-0, the Chicago White Sox defeated Detroit 7-0, Milwaukee blanked Oakland 4-0 and California topped Boston 5-1.

The last time the Indians were in first was back on April 10, 1968—and that was on Opening Day and slightly tainted by the fact that four other teams shared the top spot with them.

Today they're there on their own, half a game ahead of Baltimore and Detroit in the AL East. Are the Indians for real? Is it time to take them seriously?

Bruins Hope for Reversal

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Bruins, still thirsting for the bubbly stuff and hungry for dollars, hope to do another reversal of form and wrap up the Stanley Cup tonight against the proud New York Rangers.

The Bruins were a tense, determined group as they invaded New York for the sixth game of the National Hockey League's best-of-seven series for the sport's most coveted prize.

The Bruins, many of whom call New York's Madison Square Garden "the zoo" because of boisterous and overzealous fans who often litter the ice with debris, had their scheduled celebration party wrecked by a 3-2 loss to the Rangers in Boston Tuesday night.

They were in no mood for fun and jokes during a flight from Boston and then a bus ride for seclusion in a hotel outside "Fun City" before the important, nationally televised (CBSTV, 8:30 p.m., EDT) meeting with the Rangers.

The hard-hitting Bruins lost a chance to clinch the championship in the fifth game, blowing a 2-1 lead as the Rangers' Bobby Rousseau scored a pair of goals in the third period.

"As far as I'm concerned, the Rangers lulled us to sleep," Coach Tom Johnson said. "We didn't play our usual aggressive game, and it was costly. Injuries? How could we have any? We didn't hit anybody all night. We've got to become aggressive again."

Golf Tournament Opens

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A 142-man field was prepared to tee off this morning for the first round of the $25,000 Maumelle Open golf tournament, gunning for first prize of $5,000.

The field will be cut to the top 50 and ties after Friday's second round of the 72-hole tournament over the par 72 Maumelle Country Club course.

In Wednesday's Pro-Am prelude, Bruce Fleisher of Miami, Fla., a former U. S. amateur champ, and Jerry Barrier of Aransas Pass, Tex., fired two-under-par 70s to tie for the top prize of $230.

This is Fleisher's second year on the tour and Barrier's fourth.

Tied for third with 71s were Ross Randall of New Haven, Conn., Dick Rhyhan of Columbus, Ohio, and Mike Morley of Minot, N. D. Randall won $163.34 and the others $163.33.

At even par were Bill Brask Jr. of San Diego, Ed Sneed of Columbus, Ohio, Jim Grant of Doraville, Ga., and Rod Curl of Central Valley, Calif. Each won $106.25.

Buched at 73 were Ben Kern of Toronto, Canada, Jim Jewell of South Bend, Ind., George Hixon of Tulsa, Okla., Richard Crawford of Little Rock, Steve Reid of Winter Park, Fla., Jim King of Miami Beach and Jim Dent of Los Angeles. Each won $53.57.

Brask won an additional $200 for being on the winning Pro-Am team with amateurs John Meadows, Frank Pettit and Bruce Johnson, who combined for a best ball of 60.

Shots Three Under Par

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Homero Blancas shot a three under par 67 Wednesday and won low pro honors in the pro-am prelude to the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Blancas had a 32-35 on the par 35-35 70 Trinity River course to win $500.

Bruce Devlin shot a 68 for second prize of $425.

Three players tied for third with 69, Jerry McGee, J.C. Sneed and Bobby Mitchell. Each won $325.

Yastrzemski to Undergo Tests

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Red Sox slugger Carl Yastrzemski was to undergo tests at Sancta Maria Hospital here today to determine the extent of damage to his right knee and how long he will be out of the Boston lineup.

Yaz was to be examined by team physician Thomas Tierney and orthopedic specialist Dr. John McGillicuddy. Hospital officials said they would not know how long Yaz would be out until X-rays were taken and the examinations were completed.

The three-time American League batting champion arrived in Boston Wednesday night from Anaheim, Calif., where he was injured Tuesday night in the Red Sox victory over the California Angels.

He walked without the aid of crutches from the plane but was unable to bend the heavily bandaged right leg. Later he used a wheelchair.

Yastrzemski told newsmen at the airport that he was in more pain than when he originally injured the leg when he caught his right foot in the shin guard of California catcher Art Kusnyer while sliding into home.

"I won't know how long I'll be out until the tests are done," Yaz, who looked tired and strained, told newsmen. "But I don't think I'll play for a while—maybe three weeks or so."

Red Sox trainer Buddy Leroux said earlier the leg would be in a cast a minimum of a week and that Yaz would be out of the lineup for at least a few days after that. Leroux said damage to the knee included strained ligaments.

Blues Whip Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Memphis Blues whipped the Arkansas Travelers 4-3 in a Texas League game here Wednesday night, dropping the Travelers 2½ games behind the East Division leading Blues.

The two teams were to play here again tonight.

In other league games Wednesday night, Alexandria swept a doubleheader from Shreveport 6-3 and 5-2, El Paso clipped San Antonio 5-2 and the Midland-Amarillo game was rained out.

Rosewall Defends Title

DALLAS (AP) — Ken Rosewall's defense of his World Championship of Tennis title has turned him into a racket-throwing demon.

Rosewall admitted he "got a bit cranky" Wednesday night in defeating power-hitting Bob Lutz 6-1, 3-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 in a near three-hour quarterfinal match of the WCT playoffs.

Favored Rod Laver, who was whipped by Rosewall in November for tennis' richest prize—$50,000—thrashed John Newcombe 6-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the other quarterfinal.

Cliff Drysdale meets Marty Riessen and Tom Okker plays Arthur Ashe in quarterfinal matches tonight at Moody Coliseum.

Rosewall threw his racket five times, slammed it up against a metal chair, and teed off on a ball, sending it almost whistling into the stands like a two-iron shot, in the heated match.

"I don't remember when I've seen Kenny this tense," said WCT executive director Mike Davies.

Rosewall admitted feeling the pressure of defending champion, saying, "It takes you a long time to get to this stage."

The usually stoic Rosewall spent part of the match glaring at linesmen and stomping about in disgust, particularly after he made an unusual 17 errors in the second set.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Joe Dimaggio, the outstanding former New York Yankee outfielder, was added Wednesday to the list of players who will salute Casey Stengel June 4 at Dodger Stadium in an old-timers game.

Dimaggio played for Stengel and the two teams which collide in the prelude to the Dodgers-St. Louis Cardinal game are all men who either played for, with or against Stengel.

Sanders Jokes About Tax Troubles

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
FORTH WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Doug Sanders is having income tax problems.

"Uncle Sam just won't believe I used up $643 worth of tape last year," grinned Sanders, still a blithe, happy spirit despite several seasons of pain, advancing years and a declining performance on the pro golf tour.

The tape goes for daily wrappings on damaged, delicate hands that he insists are "the finest in golf. That's no kidding. I've got the touch of a surgeon with a club. I've got that certain feel that every few golfers have."

Those hands and wrists forced him off the tour for a month before he made a comeback at the Houston Open last week.

"I didn't play much at all," he said.

"I have a little tendonitis in both wrists. The doctor said the only thing I could do is rest it. I feel a lot stronger now."

The injury is an occupational hazard for the dapper, colorful Sanders, long noted as the tour's premier dresser.

"I've seen X rays of my wrists," he said, "and the doctors showed me how the bones of my wrist would crack down together everytime I hit a shot."

"I'm a digger. I hit down on the ball so much it's bound to have some effect."

Sanders admittedly is one of the happy-go-lucky swingers on the tour. He loves a touch of the bubbly plus feminine companionship.

He's now 38. There's a decided touch of gray in his hair and the definite hint of a roll around the middle, but Sanders, a frequent golfing companion of Vice President Agnew, still ranks as one of the prime gallery attractions on the tour.

And that is in spite of worsening performances on the course.

He lost his spot as an exempt player when he failed to make the list of the top 60 money winners last year. He has scored only one of his 18 tour triumphs in the last five seasons. That was in the 1970 Bahamas Islands Open.

"I often play better out of the country," Sanders said. "I can get away from the phone that way, and get away from so many people. It helps. In the States, everytime I go to a new town, there are so many people I know, sometimes I wonder if I shouldn't invest $2,000 in a party every Tuesday, invite all the people I know and retire the social obligations that way."

"Out of the country it's different."

With that in mind, he has a heavy international schedule set this year.

"I'll play the British Open and maybe in Denmark or Sweden or Norway. And I'll be in the Orient."

He has no thought of retiring, though his winnings of about $25,000 last season probably didn't cover his expenses.

"I love the life out here," he said. "I love the travel, the fun, even the misery. I couldn't give it all up."

Silver Mine Yields Eleven More Bodies

By JACK MAYNE
Associated Press Writer
KELLOGG, Idaho (AP) — Rescue crews probing the burned-out Sunshine silver mine have discovered 11 more bodies. But fear of smoke and gas and lack of communications has slowed efforts to go deeper in search of 33 missing men.

The 11 victims raised to 58 the number of known dead from the fire that swept through the mine nine days ago. Four of the latest victims were found Wednesday night at the 3,400-foot level. The other seven were discovered early today at 3,700 feet. Mine Manager Marvin Chase said it appeared the seven had been trying to escape smoke when they were overcome.

The aim of the rescue team was to go to 5,200 feet where the missing miners were believed to be.

Two men were brought out alive Tuesday after being entombed one week in another shaft.

After finding the bodies Wednesday night, the rescue crew spent half an hour sealing off the shaft with inflatable bulkheads covered with foam rubber. The rescuers acknowledged that they were fearful of further smoke and gas seepage even though air conditions appeared to be satisfactory.

They said the sealing operation was essential to preserve the escape route in the event the missing miners at the very bottom of the shaft had survived and were untouched by the gases in the higher level.

The rescuers informed mine officials on the surface that similar sealing efforts would be required at the 3,550-foot level and once again at 3,700 feet deep.

Experts said this meant that the goal of 5,200 feet was many hours away.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., I.W. Abel, president of the United Steel Workers of America which represents the silver mines, said emergency equipment at the mine "was lacking and training and preparation for its use was totally inadequate or lacking." Abel said the findings were determined by a task force he sent to Kellogg to investigate the fire.

Makes Promises

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Benny Roark of Fordyce, a candidate for state Land Commissioner, said Tuesday that if elected he would publish in local newspapers legal notices giving property owners 30 days' notice before their land was sold for delinquent taxes.

Roark, who is opposing the incumbent, Sam Jones, in the Democratic primary, said Jones could "retire at full pay but it's too profitable for him to get out." He did not elaborate.

If you don't approve of North's jump to four spades, we must report that our old friend Y was sitting North and his partner Z South.

Y had watched Z make so many difficult hands for West, Whitehead, Lenz and Foster back in the days of auction that he automatically raised him with any excuse whatsoever.

West made the best opening lead of a small diamond. East ruffed and returned a trump.

"This isn't the sort of hand they used to give me to play 50 years ago," said Z. "But I think justice may triumph."

He let the spade come around to his 10. Then he played dummy's ace of diamonds. East trumped and Z overruffed. Then he ruffed a club in dummy and led another diamond.

East discarded a heart and Z ruffed again. Now he ruffed a second club in dummy and another diamond in his own hand. East discarded a second heart on that fourth diamond, but it did him no good.

Z simply played his king of clubs. West took two club tricks, but then had to lead a heart. Z went up with dummy's queen and collected the rest of the tricks.

"You get better as you get older," beamed Y. "Could they have found a defense to beat you?"

"No," said Z. "It is a most interesting hand."

Pryor Says McClellan is Misleading Voters

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Wednesday that Sen. John I. McClellan, D-Ark., was misleading voters by telling them that much-needed projects would not come about unless McClellan was re-elected.

"You, South, hold ♠ A 6 5 4 ♥ K 6 3 2 ♦ Q 10 7 ♣ A 4. What do you do now?"

—Bid three no trump. Your partner will go to four spades if he holds four cards in the suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION
West doubles. Your partner redoubles. East passes. What do you do now?

Answer tomorrow.

Pryor, who is opposing McClellan for the Democratic senatorial nomination, said that Magnolia was a "good example of a town where Sen. McClellan is holding a project over the town's head."

Pryor referred to the proposed construction of a dam on Norcheat Bayou to form a reservoir that would be a new water supply for the Magnolia area.

"Regardless of who is elected, Norcheat Bayou is going to become a reality..." Pryor said.

He said McClellan had convinced some people that the project would never happen unless McClellan was in the Senate. He said that McClellan was using the same tactics in every county in regard to other projects.

Pryor had planned to campaign at Pine Bluff today but instead he flew to Washington to vote in the House on amendments to the new federal minimum wage bill. He said he planned to return to the state in time for a Pryor rally tonight at Helena.

He said while he was at Washington he planned to get a briefing from the Defense Department or the White House on the Vietnam situation.

Wednesday night at Hot Springs, Pryor said he was committed to support a national health insurance plan but still was debating in his own mind which of several plans that have been offered was the best.

Wild Thunderstorms Travel Across Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flooding rains cascaded onto broad stretches of Texas during the night and into today as a non-stop marathon of wild thunderstorms aimed wrathful blows at areas from the Panhandle-Plains sector to the coast.

Parts of South Texas already were afloat after cloudbursts dumped 9.2 inches of rain onto Laredo and the Mexican border and 6 inches in two hours at Wharton, which is southwest of Houston.

New deluges descended next on the Texas Panhandle and continued this morning, causing a flash flood warning until 7 a.m. for parts of Dallam, Hansford and Sherman counties and a neighboring slice of Oklahoma.

Showers and lighter thunderstorms were scattered along the coast and through East Texas. And forecasters predicted still more throughout the state for at least 24 hours.

Mixed in with the thunderstorms were occasional tornadoes, including one which witnesses saw hit the ground three times near Dalhart in the Texas Panhandle. Winds hitting up to 52 miles per hour damaged roofs, tore the top off a church and toppled power poles in Dalhart but there apparently was little other damage.

Reports of other twister sightings came from southwest of Amarillo and northeast of Bovina in the Panhandle, and funnel clouds also were spotted far to the south near Houston, Victoria and Corpus Christi.

Hail accompanied the heavy downpours in many areas, shelling the Dalhart area with chunks of ice the size of golf balls and hammering at Edinburg and Elsa in the Lower Rio Grande valley.

Water filled some streets three feet deep after the cloudburst hit Laredo and drove many residents from homes in a low part of town. Buses from Laredo Air Force Base hauled some to safety.

Merchants sandbagged doorways to keep out the overflow. Sheriff's officers reported an undetermined number of persons were injured during the Laredo storm. Winds gusted up to 56 miles per hour.

The Rio Grande rose from 1.7 feet to 11.3 feet in 12 hours and kept going up at Laredo, the International Boundary and Water Commission reported. Chacon and Zacate Creeks in the same vicinity went wild.

Flash flood warnings were in force for a time in low areas of Kendall, Comal, Guadalupe, Gonzales, Bexar, Medina, Wilson, Karnes, Frio and Atascosa counties.

Official observers said many South Texas streams would be out of banks for days.

Mills Calls News Conference

By EDMOND LeBRETON

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, whose campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination has set no large bonfires in the primaries, was expected to announce today that he is stepping up his effort.

The Arkansas Democrat called a news conference to discuss his political plans.

Sources close to the Mills presidential effort said he will lay out a strategy of ignoring the remaining primaries but mounting a major effort to line up delegates not committed by votes in their states or otherwise.

One source said a committee of 30 has already been set up to go after key delegations.

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which handles all tax legislation, went into the Democratic contest with the backing of a number of Congressional colleagues of various shades of opinion, home-town supporters and, reportedly, business interests.

He described his own candidacy as a long-shot, with success largely depending on a deadlocked Democratic convention.

Mills' share of the primary votes disappointed his more optimistic supporters especially in New Hampshire, where a well-financed write-in campaign was conducted in his behalf, and in Massachusetts, where he campaigned actively.

But some of them are now saying that the chances for the kind of deadlock on which they pin their hopes have been improved by the primaries in which Sens. George McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey and Gov. George Wallace of Alabama have outdistanced other candidates, including Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

Gibbs Borrows Filing Fee and Becomes Candidate

By DALA MCKINSEY

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lester Gibbs paid his $1,500 filing fee with borrowed money and became a candidate for governor again this year, but this time as a Democrat.

Gibbs, 66, said his platform is the same one he used two years ago when he finished last, with fewer than 500 votes, in a four-man race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

The incumbent in 1970 was Winthrop Rockefeller, but currently it's Dale Bumpers. Still, Gibbs said, the goals he pursued two years ago are the goals he pursues now.

"I realized that Bumpers was nothing more than a puppet on a Rockefeller string and that Rockefeller was a Judas goat," Gibbs explained.

Gibbs, who retired two years ago from the state Revenue Department, got his filing fee by signing a note on a farm. Contributions to his campaign total a little over $300, all in amounts under $10, he said.

The fiscal facts require him to run a poor man's campaign, but Gibbs said this would be in the state's best interest, since, if elected, he would owe no political favors to big donors.

"I did not have any money to have any more cards printed," he said. "I had campaign cards printed two years ago, and I'm still using them."

He says it isn't difficult to cover his campaign expenses. "It's not hard if I eat breakfast at home and get a hamburger and soda pop at lunch and try to get back home for supper," Gibbs said.

Gibbs once headed a band called "Les Gibbs and the Arkansawyers," and his musical interests led to political involvement at the age of 9 when a county judge hired him off his father's cotton farm to play during a political campaign.

He subsequently played in political outings by former Govs. Sid McMath and Orval E. Faubus, he said.

"I watched these politicians as I grew up I would analyze what they were saying and watch the reaction of the crowd," Gibbs said. "I could tell more or less what the people wanted."

If elected, he said, he would be a "people's governor," available to the public whenever the citizens wanted to see him.

Gibbs has proposed overhauling the state Finance and Administration Department on grounds it has too much power. He also said he favors cutting the sales tax from 3 per cent to 2 per cent.

As in his last campaign, Gibbs contends there is $50 million in uncollected state taxes.

"Mr. Bumpers did not call me and ask where the $50 million was," Gibbs said. "He figured, I guess, it would be on the front steps of the Capitol. But then he did not call me and thank me for the defeat of Rockefeller."

Gibbs said he would like to see the "strap hung back on the wall" at the state prisons, although federal courts have banned corporal punishment at the institutions.

"I am not a brutal man," said Gibbs, father of six. "I am going to hang that strap back. At my house, if I don't use the belt, my kids get out of hand. You must have the strap to get respect."

Prisoners also should be worked harder, he said. "We are running a rest home for retiring criminals, juvenile delinquents, homosexuals and pervers. I could take every prisoner down there and move him into the Holiday Inn and save money," Gibbs said.

He said his low-budget candidacy includes his wife as secretary. She advises him who has called their home, he said.

He said he will probably spend the night of May 30th going from one television station to another.

"I'm not expecting any overwhelming crowd to be following around after me. I don't have any paid staff."

Newspaper Endorses Tucker

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The candidacy of Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker of Little Rock for the Democratic nomination for attorney general was endorsed Wednesday by the Pine Bluff Commercial.

The newspaper said in an editorial that Tucker was the "clear choice" over Pros. Atty. Bill Thompson of Fort Smith.

The attorney general's office "must never again be allowed to slip back into the farcical role it played under Bruce Bennett," the editorial said. "Mr. Tucker promises not only to maintain the standards of the office, but to upgrade them."

The Commercial said Tucker's record as a prosecutor demonstrated "the kind of experience and competence" a candidate for statewide office can offer with some pride.

Conally Says Dollar 'Fairly Steady'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's Vietnam moves are putting no major pressure on the dollar overseas, the Treasury Department says.

"The dollar has been basically fairly steady," Treasury Secretary John B. Connally said.

"I don't think it's in any danger whatsoever."

Monetary officials at the Treasury Department said the sudden surge in the price of gold on the free market after Nixon's move was not all caused by reaction to the war effort.

One Treasury official said that the free gold market is always volatile. One reason for the sudden jump was a report that the free price of gold might go up to $85 an ounce by 1980, officials said.

"That might have been an influence," he said. "But if you invest in gold that would figure out to a return of about six and one-third per cent before taxes and it is not a very attractive return on the investment."

Nevertheless, officials acknowledge, the President's decision probably had some impact on the gold market despite other factors present.

The free market price of gold has no direct relation to the stability of the dollar. The value of the dollar is pegged to the official price of gold of $38 an ounce.

Connally said he thought the financial impact to Nixon's moves were less than expected, particularly in the stock market. "I expected a more violent reaction than occurred," Connally said. "It was somewhat milder than I anticipated."

Connally also said that he expected substantial progress will be made later this month on naming the major countries that will shape the new monetary system.

Connally plans to go to Paris for a meeting of the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development later this month where, he said, the forum for monetary reform probably would be discussed.

Connally also said the United States may have to enter into greater cooperation on trade with Canada, Japan, Mexico and other countries. And he indicated that the cooperation would include removal of tariff barriers.

$50,000 Damage Suit Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A $50,000 damage suit, filed against the federal government and Pulaski County officials by a federal prisoner who said he was beaten and exposed to tear gas in the Pulaski County Jail in 1969, was dismissed Wednesday by U. S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley.

Conditions at the jail were declared unconstitutional in early 1971 and prior to that time the federal government had a contract with Pulaski County to temporarily incarcerate federal prisoners in the jail.

Levon Brown, an inmate of the federal prison at Sandston, Minn., filed suit April 13, 1971, charging the federal government with neglect for incarcerating him in the Pulaski County Jail. Brown charged that the government knew conditions at the jail in 1969 were dangerous.

Conrad Bails Out, Floats Down Safely

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The third man ever to walk the surface of the moon bailed out of his Navy jet Wednesday night and floated down to within 100 yards of the Bergstrom Air Force Base operations near here.

The T38 aircraft of astronaut Charles C. Conrad Jr., 41, nose-dived into a field in the Texas Hill country two miles from Bergstrom, ripped itself to shreds.

Witnesses said only a tail section bearing the letters "NASA" was recognizable.

A spokesman at the Manned Spacecraft Center outside Houston confirmed that the pilot was Conrad and that he was "okay." He underwent routine tests at Bergstrom.

Builds Giant Sundae

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — "Come and get it!" was the cry for ice cream eaters at Millikin University campus.

Bill Heyer, the university's dining service manager, decided to break the monotony of final exam studies Wednesday by building a 6-foot ice cream sundae on the campus.

"What better way to keep them cool," he said. "We used a round table and an oval, plastic wading pool as the base. We piled up 120 gallons of ice cream, 2 gallons of chopped nuts, poured on 3 gallons of chocolate syrup and topped it off with 15 quarts of whipped cream."

"I put a big red apple on top instead of a cherry."

"Then I yelled: 'Come and get it!' and got out of the way."

Ivie's Homer Gains Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was late—the ninth inning in the second game of a double-header—and Alexandria's Mike Ivie didn't want to go into extra innings.

So he picked on the first pitch from Arkansas pitcher Steve Evens and homered to gain the Aces a 7-6 Texas League victory and a split of their twin bill Monday night. The Travelers won the opener 2-1 as Tommy Cruz doubled home the winning run in the sixth inning.

In another East Division game, first-place Memphis edged Shreveport 6-5 in 12 innings.

In the West, division leader El Paso topped Midland 5-3, but Amarillo crept within half a game of the Sun-Dodgers with 2-1 and 5-2 victories over San Antonio. The first game went 12 innings.

Protesters Clash With Police

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands of antiwar demonstrators clashed with police on streets and campuses in the second consecutive day of protests against the U.S. mining of harbors in North Vietnam. Two companies of National Guardsmen were ordered to patrol at the University of Minnesota.

Protests over President Nixon's mining decision reached into the Capitol in Washington and out across the country.

Arrests ran into the hundreds Wednesday as police used nightsticks, tear gas and horses to break up protests. Both demonstrators and police were injured.

The disorders were the most serious since the May 1970 protests over the U.S. invasion of Cambodia, when colleges and universities throughout the country were shut down.

The Massachusetts Senate voted 36 to 1 to condemn the mining "in the strongest possible terms."

Six Democratic governors joined in a telegram urging Nixon "to reverse this grave and dangerous policy decision."

Cabinet Reorganization Calls for Equal Status

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The city-dweller and the farmer would have equal status in dealings with community development officials under a Cabinet reorganization plan approved by a congressional committee.

The House Government Operations Committee voted 28 to 8 Wednesday to set up a new department of community development.

Reps. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., chairman of the committee and Frank Horton, R-N.Y., a senior GOP member, said President Nixon indicated he would sign the legislation into law if Congress passes it. The bill is drawn essentially along the lines of Nixon's government reorganization plan sent to Congress last year.

The new department, would include four administrators—separate ones for urban development, rural development, community transportation, and housing.

The rural agency, the committee's major revision from the President's original proposal, would pull together programs of the Farmers Home Administration and rural electrification and telephone services currently handled by the Agriculture Department.

This was described by backers as a bid to win rural support, since the original reorganization plan had drawn fire from farm groups claiming urban interests would dominate the new department.

Democrats cast all the dissenting votes in the committee's final action on the legislation. Republican Rep. Charles Thone of Nebraska voted "present."

Holifield said he expects the House will accept the legislation.

The committee rejected amendments that would have deleted some farm programs and it turned down an effort to keep highway programs under the Transportation Department.

The new department would absorb the entire Housing and Urban Development Department, and would bring together such major activities as highway building and urban mass-transit programs from the Transportation Department.

Commission Makes Proposals

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Department of Higher Education received Wednesday a list of 10 locations for the establishment of community junior colleges from the Arkansas Advisory Commission on Community Junior Colleges.

The commission also recommended that the Department of Higher Education ask the legislature to appropriate approximately $5 million during the next biennium for operation of five of the colleges. An additional appropriation for the remaining five would be requested the following biennium.

The 10 counties recommended by the commission for location of schools were Mississippi, St. Francis, Benton, Pulaski, Jefferson, Union, Garland, Boone, Sevier and Baxter.

John Mann of Forrest City, commission chairman, said other areas might be added to the list if the areas could furnish suitable facilities.

The board last month recommended that community junior colleges be established on the basis of local communities supplying facilities for the institutions with the state supplying operating funds.

The commission said the location of the first five schools should be determined by the initiative of local communities toward acquiring the institutions.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Medication Halts Sexual Drive

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Would you tell me what you think about a man with high blood pressure that stays at 200-120? He takes tablets daily for his blood pressure, plus tablets for water, and takes 15 aspirin daily (on his own) for pain from arthritis, plus vitamin pills that he gets here and there. I have asked him to change doctors, because it seems that this medicine takes away his sexual ability. He wants to, but he isn't able. I find this very nerve-wracking and it has been going on for three years since our marriage.

Dear Reader—This is a very difficult problem. Many medicines that are used to treat high blood pressure have this side effect. If your husband's pressure is at the level that you state, despite all of his medications, he obviously needs the medicine he is getting. Without the medicine he might have very serious difficulty. Put plainly, his medicine is life-saving for him. So, it is not a question of sex or medicine, but a question of medicine or death. It is sometimes difficult for people to realize that illnesses sometimes mean they can't do all the things they would like to do.

Changing doctors won't help, but I would advise you to have your husband discuss this problem with his doctor to see if there is anything he could do to help relieve the side effects. But I would not be optimistic that this would be the case. I know that it is difficult for you, but if you really love your husband, you will be able to adapt to this problem. After all, you know, marriage is for "in sickness and in health."

Dear Dr. Lamb—I noticed your column with the request of the lady whose husband was losing his hair, and who was quite perturbed about it and your answer was very good but it didn't go "far" enough, I think.

For a number of years my

Now is the time to diagram your garden plot—and file it in the drawer with the others from the last 10 years.

March is the month between the last big snow and the REALLY big snow of the winter.

Now's the time when the snow blower is used mostly to clear a putting green for the family's golf nut.

wife and I fought dandruff, itching and falling hair from my head with shampoos that anyone and everyone had tried, even prescriptions, but to no avail. I finally got my wife to quit all soaps and detergents, shampoos and just use plain hot water and I mean hot—just so it wasn't uncomfortably hot. After several weeks we began to see an improvement. After months of that method we have no more head problems except those inside, so I thought you might be interested in knowing our remedy for falling hair. Wish I had tried it a number of years ago. I might still have a good head of hair though at 83 I still have plenty.

Dear Reader—Thank you for your remedy. Congratulations on saving your hair and also for having your heart in the right place. Perhaps other readers will suggest what successful remedies they have used to prevent falling hair.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Most industrial nations of the world observe Labor Day on May 1, "May Day," with the exception of the United States and Canada. It was proposed in 1882 that the first Monday in September be declared a labor holiday in the United States as it fell between July 4 and Thanksgiving Day, The World Almanac recalls.

Brethren, I do not consider that I have made it on my own; but one thing I do, forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead. I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus.—Philippians 3:13, 14.

The rung of a ladder was never meant to rest upon, but only to hold a man's foot long enough to enable him to put the other somewhat higher.—Thomas Huxley, English biologist.

MAYOR SAM STRONG AND JULIE FLOWERS

The proclamation reads as follows:

WHEREAS, The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary adopted the Memorial Poppy as its memorial flower in 1919; and

WHEREAS, by wearing the Poppy, Americans everywhere and especially in this city of Hope both pay tribute to these war dead and aid the living by assistance to Veterans and their families in time of need; and

WHEREAS, the Poppy Day Program contributions are used solely for the programs of Child Welfare and Rehabilitation in our community and state;

NOW THEREFORE, I Sam Strong, Mayor of the City of Hope do hereby proclaim the month of May 1972 as Poppy Month and May 13 as Poppy Day in our City and I urge all citizens of our town to join with me in the wearing of the Memorial Flower as together we remember the sacrifices of so many in defense of our freedom.

Bumpers Plans for Replacement

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs, who is seeking Democratic nomination for governor, said Wednesday Gov. Dale Bumpers intends to replace J. Merle Lemley as head of the state Employment Security Division.

However, Hurst said Bumpers had postponed the action to avoid "political embarrassment."

"Lemley has conned Dale Bumpers and Bumpers knows it," Hurst said. "Lemley needs to be replaced and the governor knows this..."

Archie Schaffer III, an aide to Bumpers, said that as far as he knew the governor had no plan to replace Lemley.

Mayor Sam Strong has designated Saturday, May 13, as Poppy Day 1972 in the City of Hope according to an announcement made today. The Proclamation was signed by Mayor Strong as Julie Flowers, Junior member of the American Legion, pinned a poppy on him.

Boyle Testifies Before Federal Grand Jury

By DAVID M. THOMPSON
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — United Mine Workers President W. A. "Tony" Boyle has testified before a federal grand jury that to the best of his knowledge a special union fund which the government claims figured in a murder payoff was used only for legitimate purposes, a UMW attorney reports.

"When the murders first occurred, Mr. Boyle denied any association with the murders," UMW General Counsel Edward L. Carey said Wednesday. "He denied it every time the issue has been presented to him, and he denied it today, just as he did in the past."

As the grand jury continued its investigation into the slayings of UMW insurgent Joseph M. "Jock" Yablonski, his wife and their daughter, a source close to the case said the government apparently is unable to pinpoint who made the payoff.

"Everybody seems to be kind of groping around, looking for a handle," the source said after Boyle appeared before the grand jury at its invitation. "There are a few good leads, and it's very possible some of these will pan out in the next couple of days or weeks."

"But of all the agencies investigating this, I don't think anybody has found the key yet. If somebody did have it, they'd have moved by now."

Boyle testified for more than an hour and Carey said later at a news conference that the UMW chief had again disavowed any knowledge of the killings.

Chief Prosecutor Richard A. Sprague charged last week that he had reason to believe Boyle helped set up a special UMW research and information fund to finance the murders.

But Carey said Boyle told the grand jury the fund was used to the best of his knowledge only for legitimate union organizing purposes.

The attorney added that National Labor Relations Board reports showed that the fund, which totaled $19,970, was spent for union organizing work in the UMW's District 19.

Journalists Condemn Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The board of directors of the national professional journalism society has adopted a resolution condemning Circuit Court Judge John W. Goodson of Texarkana for finding a newspaper editor in contempt of court for printing a jury verdict that was returned in open court.

In March, Goodson ordered the Texarkana Gazette not to print the verdict in a rape case, saying he feared the story might prejudice another jury hearing the case of a second defendant accused in the same incident.

Hegrons and Egrets Die in Hailstorm

PORT MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP) — A large proportion of the estimated 30,000 herons and egrets on Green Island, a National Audubon Society bird sanctuary 10 miles southeast of here, were wiped out by a freak hailstorm Wednesday evening.

First estimates by officials of the society put the kill at about 25,000, but later reports indicated that this might include eggs as well as young birds.

Ireland Votes for Market

DUBLIN (AP) — Ireland's national referendum today piled up an overwhelming early majority in favor of joining the European Common Market and handed a massive rebuff to extremist leaders of the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

Incomplete returns showed the vote going 5 to 1 in favor of European community membership. Brendan Corish, who as leader of the Labor party spearheaded the campaign against membership, conceded defeat even before official figures were announced.

He said his party now will campaign inside the community for protection of Irish industries which will become vulnerable as tariffs go down.

The electorate of nearly 1.8 million is deciding whether to give Prime Minister Jack Lynch's Fianna Fail government power to amend the 1937 constitution to clear the way for joining the six-nation European Economic Community and sending Irish representatives to its political and business institutions.

Fianna Fail, meaning soldiers of destiny, had the backing of the main opposition party, Fine Gael, or Irish party. Labor and the two versions of Sinn Fein, the political front of the IRA, campaigned against the measure.

A decisive vote for government policy also would be interpreted as a mandate to crack down on IRA guerrillas operating from the Irish republic in their battle for control of British-ruled Northern Ireland.

Farming, still Ireland's biggest industry, stands to gain heavily from Europe's higher food prices. Small farmers in the west fear the community's insistence on efficiency would drive them out of business.

The plan is for Ireland, Denmark and Norway to enter the EEC with Britain next Jan. 1. Current members are France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Lynch hoped a massive win in Ireland would spur promarketeers in Denmark and Norway, which also plan referendums.

Brickbats for Teacher

Billy's grouchy grandfather took such a violent dislike to the boy's homeroom teacher that he wrote a special letter of denunciation to the board of education. "This woman is ignorant, lazy, and totally uninterested in her job," he alleged. "She just sits there and collects wages."

As it happened, Billy's teacher was both capable and energetic. When she found out about the letter, she determined to sue the grandfather for defamation of character.

At the trial, he was unable to produce even a shred of evidence to sustain his charges. Result: liability. The court said teachers need not put up with malicious charges that blacken their professional reputation.

Most courts agree. Still, not every mistaken statement about a teacher will support a defamation suit. Like other public employees, a teacher must "take" a reasonable amount of criticism from those who are legitimately concerned with the school system.

In another case, a pupil's mother complained to the school board that a certain teacher was "not competent." But this time, even though the mother's complaint was exaggerated, she did have a substantial amount of supporting evidence.

The teacher sued — but the court ruled against her. The judge said that for the good of public education, some leeway must be allowed to its critics.

Nor is it defamation if the charge does not seriously reflect on the teacher's professional qualifications. Take this case:

A school principal, writing a report about a new teacher, described her as being "careless in writing on the blackboard." Was this statement, if untrue, enough basis for a defamation claim by the teacher?

A court ruled that it was not, because it did not really mean she was incompetent in her job. The court said it was perfectly possible for someone to be very bad at wielding chalk, yet very good at teaching children.

Think Poncho for Summer

By JUDY LOVE

Start thinking summer — with sandy beaches, blue water and smiling sun. If shell collecting is one of your hobbies, make your first find this special summer poncho worked in easy shell stitch.

Just enough cover, but lacy enough to let the warm summer breezes in, this cover-up is perfect over slacks, HotPants or over a bikini. In fact, wear it between dips, on those shell-collecting expeditions.

This lacy, openworked, cotton poncho is crocheted in Coats & Clark's O.N.T. "Speed-Cro-Sheen," all with a size F crochet hook. You'll use 14 balls of No. 122 water-melon yarn or any color that fits into your summer color scheme.

One size fits all in this slip-over cover-up. It's easy-to-work, completely feminine and fun to wear for all casual occasions.

You'll begin work at the neck edge, right down to the scalloped edge which measures 100 inches all the way around the bottom. The length from neck edge to lower edge is 21 inches. The neck is trimmed in a ruffle with one small button to fasten.

Perfectly pretty and summery, this seashell motif poncho is yours for the crocheting. Simple-to-follow directions can be obtained by sending 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, c/o your local newspaper, Radio City Station,

Box 503, New York, N.Y. 10019. Ask for Stitchin' Time leaflet S343 and be sure to include your name, address and zip code.

KNIT KNACKS

Dear Judy: With summer on the way, once again I'm tempted to knit one of those great bikinis. Only misgiving is about how wool knit will take to water. Any reassurances you can give me? Many thanks.—C. D., Salem, Mass.

Dear C. D.: Don't worry, you can wear it in the water. But, here are a few things for you before you start on your wool-knit bikini. It's advisable to use a double strand of lightweight yarn (three- or four-ply fingering) worked on a smaller needle instead of a single strand of heavier weight yarn. Be sure to check your gauge to be certain it's correct. There's more stretch and drag when a garment's wet. Use two balls of yarn and work them together. A quick drying hint: When colors can be matched, suggest one of the two balls of yarn be nylon or a nylon and yarn mixture. A garment made with a combination of wool and nylon fibers will dry much more quickly than one of all wool. Finally, be sure to use color-fast yarn. You wouldn't want to jump into the pool red and come out pink! Start knitting, water lover.—Judy Love

Special poncho for summer fun goes great with slacks, hotpants or bikini. This lacy, openwork cotton cover-up is worked in an easy shell stitch and scalloped at the collar and hem. Easy-to-follow directions for this one-size-fits-all are available through your newspaper.

Hiding Away At $240 a Day

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

PORT ANTONIO, Jamaica — (NEA) — I knew right away it wasn't an ordinary resort joint when there was a tap on the door in the late afternoon and the man in the white chef's hat announced himself.

"I am Mr. Simpson," he said, "— come to discuss your dinner order."

Just before that, Barrington McKie had come into the living room to introduce himself as the butler and to inquire if any liquid libations were desired. Uh, scotch? Promptly a bottle of Chivas Regal, 12 years old, was on the table.

The living room should be explained. It was a separate building of carved stone, with glass walls on three sides of a promontory in the rain jungle hanging over the azure Caribbean Sea. From the living room, you looked down on a gentle cove and palm-dotted beach. There was also a bedroom building and a dining room building, the three connected by a covered arcade.

This was just one unit among 18 in a complex called Frenchman's Cove, which has to be the spiffiest hideaway in the Western Hemisphere, or any other hemisphere. Also the most expensive.

The tariff per couple—children not especially wanted—is $240. That's a day! Not a week. The weekly tab is $1,680. The money is mentioned because right away the thought is, what do you get for it? Anything your little old heart desires.

There were, of course, the butler and the maid, Olive, who came up to the cottage (sic) at 7:30 a.m. to fix breakfast. Lunch was at the beach, with linen and silverware, and Barrington in attendance at a sumptuous buffet washed down with Pouilly Fuisse or anything else in the wine cellar. Dinner was with music and candlelight at the Great House, a hilltop manor among the 40 acres of rain forest and manicured lawn, through which flows the Rio Grande into the sea.

All this at Frenchman's Cove is the brainchild of a lean, graying tycoon from San Antonio (Texas, that is) named Grainger Weston, who once served in the Royal Canadian Navy. The family's rich. So's Grainger, who's in charge of the biscuit-manufacturing division Grandma's Cookies, et al. Father bought 64 acres on Frenchman's Cove more than a dozen years ago to build a private vacation retreat. The government told him that it wanted a revenue-producing hotel there. So father sent Grainger down to check it out.

Now, sitting under a shady beach palm on one of his monthly visits, sipping a banana daiquiri, Weston said, "I didn't want to put a concrete block next to this beach. You know, a lot of rich people had homes in this area. But they had trouble with utilities and maintaining help. So we built a place which would appeal to them—they could get the conveniences of a private home without the bother."

Weston said it cost $2 million. That was a dozen years ago. "We couldn't duplicate it now," he added. "All the good stone masons have left the island for better pay elsewhere."

And even Frenchmen's Cove, despite the prices, has scaled down a bit. Originally, you could come in and telephone anywhere in the world, on the house. When Wall Street types started conducting their business offshore on chartered yachts, they had to limit calls to the island. Rumor has it one visitor had to be rushed to Kingston for an appendectomy, and that was taken care of by his bill, too.

But all is not lost. You still have your own gas-driven golf cart to roam the 40 acres of the premises. It is possible to get lost here. Marlon Brando once did it for two weeks, and nobody knew who he was until after he'd gone. A small boutique with native products is run by Patrice Wymore Flynn, widow of Errol.

The clientele is international, including the three ladies from Mexico, who, every night after brandy, took a wild ride on the golf cart.

Gather Ye Information ---for Free

By Sheila & Allan Swenson

The headline speaks for itself. Sunlight and rain help your garden's grow. Moonlight, of course, is still there for romance.

But in our pragmatic age, there's so much more we all need to know to make our gardens and homes more enjoyable, more livable and our environment a better place.

Knowledge is where you find it. Actually, there is a wealth of knowledge available to you free. Just ask. Most times, that involves writing a letter, note or filling in a request card.

One of the best sources for gardening information is your local county agricultural agent. He is a highly trained, dedicated specialist. Your taxes pay his salary. County agents are located at your county seat, the county government administration building for your area. Free bulletins, folders and other materials are all available.

Next source is your state agricultural college. At each college there are extension specialists. Again, these people are the experts in your state in their field and range from ornamental horticulturists to lawn specialists, from engineers to entomologists. They want to answer your questions, help you improve your environment. These dedicated men and women are federal-state employees.

In Washington, D.C., there are thousands of specialists who serve you. The Superintendent of Documents offers information about free and minimal-cost literature, from folders to booklets that can be exceedingly useful to you. Write to Washington, get on the free-bulletin advisory lists.

America's Junior Miss Crowned

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A petite, brown-eyed brunett from Lexington, Ky., has been crowned America's Junior Miss in the 15th annual pageant.

Lydia Anne Hodson, 17, daughter of an elementary school principal in Lexington, received a $10,000 college scholarship for winning the crown in addition to $2,000 in scholarships she won in preliminary competition.

"It was such a wonderful experience meeting all the fine girls and working with all these wonderful people," she said after being crowned Tuesday night by New Jersey's Arlene Stens, America's Junior Miss for 1971.

The 5-foot-2½ Kentuckian was the only double winner in three preliminary rounds, placing first in the poise and appearance category and in scholastic achievement.

She plans to attend Transylvania College in Kentucky to study sociology.

Miss Utah, Cyndy Strike, 17, of Salt Lake City, was runnerup and received a $6,000 scholarship.

The second runnerup was Miss Michigan, Catherine Sue Dey, 17, of St. Joseph. Miss Illinois, Barbara Gorgol, 18, of Des Plaines, was third runnerup, and Miss Idaho, Anne Hagerman, 18, of Wendell, was fourth runnerup.

Robin Smith, an 18-year-old contestant from Picayune, Miss., was chosen Miss Personality by the contestants and received a $1,000 scholarship.

Other semifinalists included Miss Oklahoma, Karla Reinmuth, 17, of Bartlesville; Miss New York, Terry Lodge, of Horseheads; Miss Pennsylvania, Carl Ann Williams, of Allentown; Miss Florida, Melissa Flinzing, of Merritt Island, and Miss West Virginia, Teresa Lynn Lucas of Alloy.

British Hit Mistresses on Welfare

LONDON (AP) — Single women drawing welfare checks are being hounded by sex snoopers from the government, British legislators claim.

They charged in Parliament Tuesday that some of the 200,000 single women and divorcees were under surveillance by investigators who question their children, neighbors, employers and male friends.

Single women supported by men are not entitled to welfare benefits. The government is under growing pressure to change the rule, partly because of the charges of keyholing.

One member of the Labor opposition, Joan Lester, charged that the agents are more concerned with finding out whether a woman "was sleeping with a man than with the financial arrangements."
